

For retailers

Information about trade terms and how independent retailers can set up a trade account.

Find out about our range, how to apply for an account, and how we can help you to sell our products.

About retail accounts

Retail accounts are intended for those with shop premises and are generally independent high street outlets selling directly to the consumer.

If you are selling on a stall, through a basket or bag scheme, through a website, through the catalogue or on a market stall, please visit Traidcraft's Fair Trader area for details on applying for a Fair Trader account.

If you are a wholesaler, part of a nationwide chain, or in general are able to buy in full pallet quantities, please visit our wholesale pages.
