

Traidcraft stationery

Our creative collection of handmade cards, wraps and gifts displays the artistry of skilled craftspeople from developing countries.

Handmade fair trade paper is a product primarily made by female workers, often in rural areas. The sector is easy for poor producers to enter, as it requires little technology and needs relatively little capital to set up.

Handmade fair trade paper production often offers part-time employment, bringing additional cash income to people who are also agricultural workers or are restricted to home-based work.

The products are easy to transport and raw materials are easily accessible, environmentally friendly and available locally.

View our range of fair trade stationery on our online shop.

UK sourced paper products

Traidcraft also sources paper products from the UK. These products provide customers with a wider range of useful paper items to choose from and are complementary to our third world product range.

The UK sourced paper is an important source of revenue for Traidcraft which helps to supplement our third world purchases.

- Find out about the environmental aspects of our UK sourced cards.
- See our full range of cards.

