

Postcards

Our postcards, which can be ordered online, help to influence decision makers. They are also perfect for giving out at events.

Raw materials

Many of the world's poorest countries are rich in valuable raw materials. And many of the world's richest countries want to get their hands on them!

We're campaigning to stop the European Union stealing developing countries' valuable raw materials. Help us to ensure that these countries have the right to control their resources to benefit their people and the environment.

*Please note on 4th April 2011 Royal Mail announced its annual stamp price rise. This postcard now costs 68p to send - not 60p as written on the card itself. We apologise for any inconvenience caused.
