

Fair trade toolkit

Got a tricky trade question? Don't know your supply chains from your trade deals? Traidcraft has produced a series of handy guides to just about all you could ever want to know on trade.

A raw deal? Supermarkets and their suppliers (September 2007)

Supermarkets profits are booming but very little of this money finds its way to the people who actually produce our food. Read our handy briefing to find out why.

Download A raw deal? PDF.

EPAs: The Rhetoric and The Reality (September 2006)

What's going on with EPAs? More on the negotiations, what the ACP think and how EPAs are shaping up.

Download EPAs: The Rhetoric and The Reality PDF.

Companies: why we need new laws (February 2006)

Through investment and trade companies can be a real force for good in poor countries. But should their impact be left to chance? Find out why Traidcraft is supporting the Right Corporate Wrongs campaign.

Download Companies: why we need new laws PDF.

Fair trade and the crisis in world commodity prices (June 2005)

Imagine trying to survive on just one fifth of what you were earning twenty years ago. This is the reality for millions of poor farmers who have seen the value of their produce plummet.

Download Fair trade and the crisis in world commodity prices PDF.

Are International Supply Chains increasing poverty? (April 2005)

Find out how the international supply chains which underpin the way we trade increase poverty and how this could be changed.

Download the PDF of Are International Supply Chains increasing poverty?

EPAs: the Hidden Danger (October 2004)

Discover why free trade deals known as Economic Partnership Agreements could ruin the lives of 750 million of the world's poorest people.

Download EPAs: the Hidden Danger PDF.

Corporate Social Responsibility - does it make any difference? (October 2004)

It's a hot trend in the business world. But does Corporate Social Responsibility help to reduce poverty or is it just spin?

Download the PDF on Corporate Social Responsibility.

Fair Trade in the Wider World (August 2004)

What's wrong with the way we trade now? Why do we need fair trade and what can we learn from it?

Download the PDF of Fair Trade in the Wider World.