

For church press

Traidcraft is a Christian response to poverty; this is one of the foundation principles which guide our mission of fighting poverty through trade. With more than 80% of our core supporters active churchgoers, we have a strong presence in the Christian community, although we work with people of all faiths or none.

Peter Collins is our Church Relations Manager responsible for maintaining and extending our links with faith groups and the religious press in the UK. You can contact him on 0191 497 6465 or at peterc@traidcraft.co.uk.

Church press releases

Fairly white Christmas

Dip into Traidcraft's new winter catalogue and you can guarantee snow for Christmas. 11 August 2008

Margaret Sentamu returns to Traidcraft fold

Margaret Sentamu has become a trustee of the Christian-based fair trade organisation Traidcraft for 14 the second time.

July 2008

Articles for the church press

➤ A nice cup of tea ?

One of the enjoyable things about worshipping in church on a Sunday is thinking of all the different churches that are 31 doing the same.

August 2007

➤ Elaine meets the basket makers

Fair trade enthusiast Elaine Wilmore is finally getting to meet someone she's always wanted to meet the women 31 who make the jute hammocks she sells. And the meeting at the Jute Works, in Bangladesh, will be captured by television producer Mark Batey as one of the highlights in a documentary item for BBC North East on the work of Traidcraft.

August 2007